Lydia Bader is a well-sought after pianist, giving concerts all over Europe, in Russia as well as in China. Ms. Bader performs as a soloist as well as pianist for chamber music, together with guitarists and clarinetists. She has been also playing at various significant international festivals around the world. Important awards she has already earned despite her young age include those from the competitions 'Flame' in Paris and 'Glière' in Germany.

Ms. Bader's career started when she was only four years old. Being taught by her father in the beginning, she secured first awards for young musicians at the age of six. Since, she has received training at renowned music universities in Munich, Graz and Paris (Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique).

Goethe-Institut gladly opens the doors of Berlin Hall for Ms. Bader's performance, which is organized by the German Embassy in Bangladesh. Lydia Bader will perform pieces of the famous German-speaking composers Mozart, Schubert, Liszt and Schapfl, covering three centuries of German musical history.
